

International Academic Express

Journal Publishing Agreement

Biomedical Sciences Instrumentation

Instructions

The submitted manuscript will be considered for publication following the completion of all information in the Manuscript detail section. Please submit the dated and signed form with the final manuscript. Manuscripts which are missing this information will not appear in the journal listed below

Biomedical Sciences Instrumentation

Manuscript Details

Manuscript Title:

Corresponding Author's Name, Address, and email

List of ALL authors

Signature

Signing this agreement constitutes acceptance by the Author(s) the contents contained herein including figures, definitions, illustrations, tables, etc.

Name of Corresponding Author or designee

Signature

Date

Copyright Information

Manuscript submitted: Either the corresponding author or designee listed below, with the consent of all authors, hereby transfers copyright ownership to International Academic Express (IAE). If the manuscript is withdrawn or rejected prior to publication, this transfer is null and void.

Permitted use Agreement: IAE permits author reuse of all or part of the submitted, accepted and published work in a thesis or dissertation that the Author is required to submit to satisfy the criteria for a degree from an accredited academic granting institution.

Authors may reuse figures, tables, artwork, illustrations, and data from submitted and published work in which IAE holds copyright for teaching, training, presentation at conferences and seminars (with proper citation of the published work). Authors using the aforementioned materials in subsequent publications or on personal or university networks must have written permission from IAE and provide appropriate citation to the published work.

Authors may send a copy of the work to colleagues and the manuscript must include the IAE copyright and ISSN and/or ISBN information. The recipient should be informed that further distribution of any version of the work is not permitted.

A digital file of the work can be posted on websites and repositories only if it is mandated by the Author's funding agency.